

MISS AMY JOHNSON

1st Grade Instructor

A little bit about me...

For those of you who don't know me, my name is Miss Amy Johnson and I am the 1st grade teacher here at St. Joseph. This is my 2nd year here at SJPS, however, I have been teaching for about 8 years. Previously I taught at a Catholic School in South Milwaukee and I was teaching Kindergarten during that time. I currently live in West Bend. I have a Miniature Schnauzer named Winnie and two Siamese cats, named Frank and Jinx.

Do you have any funny teaching stories?

Last year, I had a day where I was just really struggling, and nothing was going right for me. I told the kids I was on the struggle bus that morning because I was messing up the simplest things. Later in the day my student says.. "Miss Johnson, have you hopped off the struggle bus yet?" I laughed and said I did. He then says.. "was it because you got bus sick or because you just felt better about your choices?"

Do you craft or make anything?

I am quite the crafter. I am a teacher by day and a crafter by night. My small business is called JohnsonCreationsUS. I own an ETSY shop and a Facebook shop where I sell the items that I make. The Facebook shop is mostly for my local customers, and ETSY is for my out of state customers. I create t-shirts, teacher gifts, glass blocks, Valentines, Christmas gifts, end of the year gifts and much more. I also do lots of craft fairs and I am also hosting a craft fair here at St. Joseph Parish School on April 15th, 2023 from 10am-3pm in the school gym!

What is your favorite part about St. Joseph Parish School?

I love how it feels to be part of one big family. Everyone is so kind, caring and compassionate here at SJPS. The families, students and teachers are just simply AMAZING and make everyday wonderful!
